

FANCY PARKING PLAN OBJECTED TO BY GROCERY

That the present system of parking automobiles is responsible for a large loss of its business and that if it be continued it will result in irreparable injury, the McKee Cash store yesterday filed a complaint in the superior court yesterday asking that a temporary injunction be granted restraining the officers from interfering with the use of truck and transfer wagons and stopping the plaintiffs' country customers from driving and stopping their vehicles lengthwise along the curb.

The McKee company instituted proceedings against the city after it became convinced that its business was being seriously injured and damaged, the loss of country trade alone exceeding $50 a day according to the complaint.

The store is located at First avenue and Adams street and has no alley exit. The only possible way to load and unload its trucks is on Adams street. This fact is set forth in the complaint which alleges that when the city reserved space for parking automobiles it notified the store that the trucks should not be allowed to back up to the building nor to stand lengthwise on the street against the curb except for twenty minutes. The country customers are not allowed to stop vehicles lengthwise along the curb for sufficient time to make and load purchases, cites the complaint and it is desired that this is continued the customers will go elsewhere to shop.

The plaintiff asks that the city be restrained until the final hearing.

DIPLOMATIC STRUCTURE CRUMBLES

behind his nation's resurrection, Germany's interests in seven countries and the large sections of Egypt and Morocco have been turned away from American sympathies and aid to whatever neutral Germany can find to accept the work. The state department today instructed its officials to represent German interests in England, France, Russia and Japan, Rumania, Serbia, Greece, Egypt and Morocco, to suspend all activities along that line and await in formation to be conveyed through some neutral government to whom Germany wishes those interests surrendered.

German interests undoubtedly will suffer severely as a result of this indirect effect of her action in forcing the United States to the step she has taken. It will take some time for the experienced hands to pick up all the threads and master the detail. Moreover no nation still neutral has either the facilities or the position to secure the results the United States has been able to secure for Germany.

The entente allies also are made to suffer indirectly through Germany's action, as the great chief work built up through the American embassy in Berlin, safeguarding British, Japanese, Rumanian and Serbian interests, has been overthrown. Just before closing, turned over their interests to Holland, Japan, and Serbia to Spain and Rumania to China temporarily.

Belgium, which she will continue to run for the present, it is understood here and every attempt made to secure their immunity from German attack. If food from this country is cut off Belgium will be reduced to an almost helpless state, as it will be impossible to spare either food or tonnage from the other belligerent or neutral nations. If the United States is hampered in this work it will be regarded by entente sympathizers as the final act to make Germany an outlaw nation.

As to prisoners, the United States represents the interests of at least one million and probably two million men in the countries from which Germany has forced the withdrawal of American diplomats. American officials have been retiring in their efforts under conditions almost intolerably difficult.

No exact figures are obtainable here as to the numbers of prisoners represented as all that work has been carried on by American officials who have reported directly to the belligerent countries. In Russia alone there are known to be over 100,000 with another 100,000 in England and very large numbers in France and Germany.

PRESIDENT WILSON - WARNS THE KAISER WAR MAY COME

and began reading the document, which is being heard "round the world."

Not a sound came from floor or gal-eries save the clear, calm tones of the president reading slowly and distinctly. The assembly of senators, representatives and notables about him listened with closest attention to words which may record one of the sombre moments of American history, if not, indeed, of the world.

Briefly he reviewed how last April the United States warned Germany after the destruction of the Sussex that unless the imperial government declared and effected an abandonment of that sort of submarine warfare the United States would have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations altogether. Then he quoted from the German reply which gave assurances that no ships would be sunk without warning and provision for safety of passengers and crew. He recounted the production of the German government attached which in effect reserved to itself the right to recant its promises if the United States did not secure relaxation of the British restraint on commerce, and then quoted from the reply of the United States which refused to consider a conditional pledge and gave Germany final warning that it could not entertain or discuss any such suggestion.

The president did not refer to the long list of submarine operations which have been conducted in violation of the Sussex pledge, but proceeded at once to the new war zone order which became effective February 1.

When he told how the German proclamation left nothing for the honor and dignity of the United States but a break in relations and that he had ordered passports sent to von Bernstorff and told him to demand the assurance that Germany intended to violate American lives and rights, and there was prolonged applause and cheering when he concluded by announcing that should American ships and sailors be sacrificed "in headless contravention of the just and reasonable understanding of international law and the obvious dictates of humanity," he would again appear before congress to ask aid and to "use any means that may be necessary for the protection of our seamen and our people."

The president spoke as follows:

"Gentlemen of the senate: The imperial German government on the thirty-first of January announced to this government and to governments of other neutral nations that on and after the first day of February, the present month, it would adopt a policy with regard to the use of submarines against all shipping, sea lanes and navigation, which designated areas of the high seas to which it is clearly my duty to call your attention."

"Let me remind the congress that at the 8th day of April last, in view of the sinking on the 24th of March of the cross channel passenger steamer, the Sussex, by a German submarine, without summons or warning, and the consequent loss of the lives of several citizens of the United States, who were passengers aboard her, this government addressed a note to the imperial German government in which it made the following declaration:—

"If it still the purpose of the imperial government to prosecute relentless and indiscriminate warfare against vessels of commerce, the use of submarines without regard to what the government of the United States must consider the sacred and inviolable rules of international law and the universally recognized dictates of humanity, the government of the United States is at last forced to the conclusion that it has but one course to pursue. Unless the imperial government should now immediately declare and effect an abandonment of its present methods of submarine warfare against passenger and freight-carrying vessels, the government of the United States can have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations with the German empire and to continue the operations of war for the rest of its duration to the fighting forces of the belligerents, thereby also insuring freedom of the seas for the United States, which the German government believes now, as before, to be in agreement with the government of the United States."

"The German government, guided by this idea, notified the government of the United States that the German naval forces have received the following orders: In accordance with the general principles of visit and search and destruction of merchant vessels, recognized by international law, each vessel, both warships and merchant ships, permitted to continue to apply the methods of warfare violating the rules of international law. Such a demand would be incompatible with the character of neutrality and the German government is convinced that the government of the United States does not think of making such a demand, knowing that the government of the United States has repeatedly declared that it is determined to restore the principle of the freedom of the seas, from whatever quarter it has been violated."

"To this the government of the United States replied on the eighth of May, accepting of course the assurance given, but adding:—

"The government of the United States feels it necessary to state that it takes it for granted that the imperial German government does not intend to imply that the maintenance of its newly announced policy is in any way contingent upon the course or result of diplomatic negotiations between the government of the United States and any other belligerent government, notwithstanding the fact that certain passages of the imperial government's note of the fourth instant might appear to be susceptible of that construction."

In order, however, to avoid any misunderstanding, the government of the United States notified the imperial government that it cannot for a moment entertain much less discuss, in suggestion that respect by German naval authorities to the rights of citizens of the United States upon the high seas should in any way or slight degree be made contingent upon the conduct of any other government, affecting the rights of neutrals and non-combatants. Responsibility in such matters is single, not joint, absolute, not relative."

"To this note of the 8th of May, the imperial German government made no reply."

On the 31st of January, the Wednesday of the present week, the German ambassador handed to the secretary of state along with a formal note, memorandum which contained the following statement:—

"The imperial government therefore does not doubt that the government of the United States will understand the situation thus forced upon Germany by the entire allies' brutal methods of war and by their determination to crush the central power and that the government of the United States will further realize that the now openly disclosed intention of the entente allies gives back to Germany

Newbro's Herpicide Aids Nature and Keeps the Scalp Clean From Dandruff

Reasonable care and effort are all that are required to enable almost any woman to have good hair. When the hair falls out it is stringy, uneven, dry, brittle and generally unsightly, the condition is nearly always due to dandruff.

Before the hair will grow naturally and luxuriantly, the scale-like accumulation must be removed and the dandruff eradicated. That is what Newbro's Herpicide does. It is an aid to nature. Herpicide keeps the scalp clean, adds a softness and luster to the hair which indicates health. It not only prevents the hair from falling out but causes it to become one of woman's greatest charms.

Beautiful hair and lots of it may be the reward of every woman willing to devote a little personal effort to the use of the First and Original Germ-Remedy for Dandruff. Herpicide stops itching of the scalp. It has an exquisite odor.

You can obtain a trial size bottle and booklet telling all about the hair by sending ten cents in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. S, Detroit, Mich.

Your dealer sells Herpicide in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00, and guarantees satisfactory results or money refunded. Insist upon having genuine Herpicide and not some "off brand" said to be "just as good" preparation. The substitute costs you just as much as the real article. Why take chances?

Herpicide applications obtained at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

the freedom of action which she reserved in her note addressed to the government of the United States on May 4th, 1916.

Under the same circumstances Germany will meet the illegal measures of her enemies by forcibly preventing their free passage of the seas.

After Feb. 1, 1917, in a zone around Great Britain, France, Italy and western Mediterranean, all navigation, that of neutrals included, from and to England and to and from France, etc. All ships not within the zone will be sunk.

COMB SAGE TEA IN LIFELESS, GRAY HAIR

Look Young! Common Garden Sage and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally No One Can Tell

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied, with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known down town druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking a strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears. After another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.
